Both the above documents still require some additions for the employer responsive funding models before they are ready for final printing and distribution. They also both need printed versions of the documents listed at end of email to complete cross referencing. For this reason both are labelled draft but no other changes are expected to the final versions of these documents.

The following forms are also referred to in PR&R and updated 2008/09 forms and information are now available from the LSC website (links are in the documents)
